DEVLIN SAYS:

'Cheap Shoes like a lot of big-noised men make a lot of racket without getting anywhere in particular.'

AND WHAT DEVLIN SAYS IS SO

Good Shoes don't squeak for themselves, but they speak for themselves in the unmistakable language of culture and distinction.

One can gain a pretty good idea of the character of a man or woman by watching the shoes that they wear.

There's a barrel of philosophy in the "run-down-at-the-heel" expression.

ALL WORTH SAMPLING

VARIETY OF DUMPLINGS TO SUIT
ALL TASTES.

May Be Made the Chief Part of Meal or Only a Course of the Menu as May Be Desired for the Meal.

Chicken Dumplings.—Mix and sift three level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one-half a level teaspoonful of salt with two cups of flour. Add sufficient milk to make a soft dough. Roll lightly on a floured board and cut into small biscuits. Place on a greased plate in a steamer and cook 20 minutes. Do not move or uncover the steamer while the dumplings are cooking. Do not start to make the dumplings until the chicken is tender. It can wait, but not the dumplings.

Soft Dumplings.—One cupful of finely chopped beef suet, one generous pint of flour; one teaspoonful of black pepper, 1½ teaspoonfuls of salt. Mix well together and add enough cold water to make as thick as biscuit dough. Roll out and cut with a biscuit cutter or knife, drop into boiling water and cook for one-half hour, drain and serve hot. Serve with roast meat, or the dumplings may be slightly browned in the oven after boiling. They are also good added to a meat stew.

Liver Dumplings.—Chop one-half pound of liver and one-fourth pound of bacon, uncooked, as fine as possible. Beat two eggs lightly and add one-fourth cupful of butter to them. Then add the meat, the seasonings of chopped parsley, white herbs, salt and pepper, and 1½ cupfuls of bread crumbs, adding more bread crumbs if necessary. This will depend on the softness or dryness of the crumbs and on the size of the eggs. The mixture should be just stiff enough to make a paste which can be formed into balls. Divide into portions, roll smoothly in the hands and poach in boiling water before boiling, cooking about fifteen minutes.

Potato Dumplings.—Grate four cold boiled potatoes and add to them one cupful of stale bread crumbs soaked in a little milk, just enough to moisten, also one cupful of bread crumbs crisped in a little butter or drippings. Add two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of flour and seasoning of salt, pepper and nutmeg. Form into medium-sized balls and steam or boil 20 minutes. Turn on to a serving dish and sprinkle with the remaining fried bread crumbs.

Drip Dumplings.—Three eggs, one-half cupful of milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one cupful of flour, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper and a grating of nutmeg. Break the whites of the eggs into a cup and add enough milk to fill the cup. Mix with the butter and flour in a spider and stir as it boils until it leaves the spider clean. When cool, stir in the yolks well and season to taste. Drop from a teaspoon into boiling soup five minutes before serving.

Cornmeal Dumplings.—Scald four cupfuls of cornmeal with a sufficient quantity of hot liquid in which ham has been boiled, add a dash of salt, stir together well, make into balls and slip into the ham liquor when it is very hot. Boil for twenty or twenty-five minutes, occasionally stirring to keep from sticking to the kettle.

Turkish Loaf Candy.
Toast one-fourth pound shelled almonds (blanched) and one-half pound shelled walnuts in the oven until a delicate brown. Cut one-eighth pound figs and one-eighth pound candied pineapple into strips. Work these ingredients together with one-fourth pound seeded raisins, into the fondant, which has been flavored with vanilla. Shape into a loaf and cover on all sides with melted chocolate. When hard and ready for use, cut in slices.
—Mother's Magazine.

Prunes and Chestnuts.
Soak three-fourths pound of prunes over night in just enough water to cover; then stew until tender. Shell and blanch one pound chestnuts and soak in boiling, salted water until tender. Drain, then add them to the prunes; add one slice of lemon and slowly cook both until the prunes and chestnuts are very tender and the juice of the prunes has become thick.

Queen Cake.
One cupful sugar, one-half cupful butter, one-half cupful milk, three eggs, one cupful flour; stir sugar and butter to a cream, add the yolk of the eggs with milk, then flour into which has been stirred two heaping teaspoonfuls baking powder and cornstarch; beat thoroughly together; add whites of eggs beaten last.

Potato Rissoles.
Season a pint of hot mashed potatoes to taste with salt, pepper, butter and a little hot cream. Add a well-beaten egg and mix in a cupful of finely minced cold lamb. Form into balls, roll in egg and fine bread crumbs and fry in deep fat. Serve at once, garnished with crisp lettuce leaves.

Christmas Pound Cakes.
One pound butter, one pound sugar, one pound of flour, one pound of eggs (usually eight), salt, one pound of raisins, a little nutmeg. Put in just a little baking powder. Bake this in a large tin and cut it into four small cakes when done.

Coquettish Modes Reappearing

The pannier drapery and the pointed bodice, from the coquettish modes of long ago, are plainly embodied in the fascinating frock shown here. But it follows its pretty and frivolous fore-runner at a considerable and safe distance and has adapted instead of adopting the original that it compliments so adroitly. The twentieth-century maid consents to the frivolity of the seventeenth-century gown but stops at its foolishness. She has folies of her own to deal with.

The gown pictured has a full underskirt of georgette crepe on which a little outline embroidery in gold appears at the front, and an underbodice and three-quarter length sleeves of the crepe. The overskirt, of flowered taffeta, is cut longer than the underskirt and caught up at two places at each side. Wherever required it is tucked to the underskirt and it hangs straight and full at the back, covering the crepe skirt completely.

The crepe underbodice is almost square at the neck and finished with a narrow silk lace with gold threads outlining the flower pattern. The silk bodice, instead of being stiffly boned and smooth, is softly draped about the figure, thus departing from the ways of its prototype. Instead of a long, rigid point at the front it has a short point and easy adjustment to the figure. It is gathered over a cord at the top and narrows to bands over the shoulders. It is graceful and comfortable looking which proves that we have learned something in the lapse of over two hundred years—perhaps.

Worth and Premet and other great names in the world of fashion, sanction the revival of the pannier and the pointed bodice. Each adapts the mode to his own ideas. It is safe to predict that they will accomplish nothing prettier than the model shown here, which may be made up in any of the season's good colors.

Popular Styles in Utility Blouses

Among the great diversity of styles in new utility blouses offered for spring, those that are meeting with best success are of good materials, well made and rather plain. As in the new lingerie, much reserve as to decoration is noticeable in them, and much attention to good workmanship. This bespeaks an advance in popular taste which is making itself felt in other directions as well. Even in inexpensive fabrics manufacturers say that consumers demand neat effects, womanly figures instead of printed ones, and are appreciative of good management of color.

The two blouses shown here are typical examples of moderately priced styles designed for general wear. The blouse at the left is made of fine cotton voile and depends for decoration on plaitings of the voile and hemstitching. It fastens with small pearl buttons and exceptionally well-made buttonholes.

This model is cut with a shallow yoke at the back which extends over the shoulders to the front. The body of the blouse is joined to the yoke with pipings of the voile, and the sleeves, collar and cuffs are set in the same way. Hemstitching is introduced in the hemming of the knife plaiting, which edges the collar and cuffs, in the hem of the collar and in the front of the blouse. The collar is very wide and supported by wires at the back and neck. It is made close fitting and wrinkles about the neck. The sleeves are long and at the waist line an elastic band is inserted in a half-inch hem.

The blouse at the right is of white voile banded with a light color. Blue, tan, rose, and lavender are liked, and maize finds occasional admirers for these handings. In the blouse pictured here the banding is in a fairly strong shade of blue and is hemstitched to the edge of the collar and pockets and let into the cuffs in the same way.

Hemstitching is featured in this model. All the seams are hemstitched and the collar is set on with it. The back is cut to extend over the shoulders to form the short yoke at the front. A group of fine tucks extends from the neck to the waist line at the back and from the yoke to the line of the bust on each side of the front.

A very simple pattern of dots and scrolls, in blue floss, outlines the pockets and appears on the collar, and a bit of openwork is inserted at the bottom of each pocket.

These blouses are among those which may be bought readymade at prices ranging from two and a half to five dollars. They are machine made but tasteful and practical.

New Hug-Me-Tights.

The newest "hug-me-tight" is a knitted surplice sweater jacket of Shetland wool. It is finished with a belted effect at the waist, with turnback cuffs and a collar of white, or of contrasting color. As its name implies, it is closed in the front by crossing surplice fashion.

Knitted bathrobes for wee folk are fashioned opened in the front, so that they look not unlike a "grown-up" sweater.

He—It's lovely to spend a day in the country away from everybody, isn't it?

She—Well, you surely show up in a better light when you're away from everybody else.

Had All He Wanted.

The worthy old sportsman had asked, out of the kindness of his heart, a few subalterns to shoot his birds. He passed a wearing afternoon. When evening came the old man examined himself carefully to make sure he really had escaped peeping. "Temporary officers," said he, "are all right in their way; temporary gentlemen we have to put up with, but heaven save me from any more temporary sportsmen."

Gum Tragacanth.

The various species of Astragalus, known in Persia as "kevin," from which gum tragacanth is obtained, grow on the mountain ranges which surround the Persian plain. The bushes producing the gum grow to a height of two feet. In the spring, when the sap rises, a part of the branches are cut away, thereby allowing the sap to flow out, which coagulates within a few hours on the surface of the stalk.

HOODOO SHIP MAKES MONEY

The Old Freighter Algoa Has More Than Paid Her Purchase Price.

San Francisco.—The old Algoa, formerly Pacific Mail, has blossomed out as a real war baby.

This steamer, which in times of peace used to be tied up in the lower bay with cold boilers for long periods, has earned $300,000 that was paid for her when she was rechristened the California. Also she has earned $90,000 more.

Furthermore, the California—nee Algoa—has now been chartered to a powder company at $1,700 a day, or $51,000 a month, or $612,000 a year, or more than twice as much as her owners paid for her.

It is stipulated in this last charter that she shall ply only between neutral ports, which is taken to mean that she will become a nitrate carrier between South America and the Du Pont powder mills in the United States.

SELLS AN EGG FOR $1,000

Mrs. Gifford Sends One, Laid by Fabled Roc, to Denver Museum.

Orange, N. J.—Thrifty housewives who blame their grocers for demanding 60 cents a dozen for eggs may congratulate themselves that they are not compelled to make their purchases from Mrs. Robert Gifford. Yesterday she disposed of her egg supply at the very satisfactory rate of $12,000 a dozen.

The transaction was not as extensive as Mrs. Gifford may have desired, however, since it involved but one egg, that of the fabled roc, of Arabian Nights' fame, and the purchaser was the Denver museum. Technically, it is the egg of the Aepyornis, the fossil bird of Madagascar, but three of which are to be found in this country.

Famous Factory to Reopen.
The famous King Teh Cheong porcelain factory, which from the year 1396 furnished all the fine porcelain for the royal palaces of China, is to be reopened. This factory was partly destroyed during the revolution in which the republic was established and the various samples and patterns kept there were divided among the leading revolutionists. However, many patterns have been recovered, together with samples, and the next step is awaited with interest.

India's Love of Gold.
Complaints of India's appetite for gold began in the time of the Carthaginians, who in the fourth century B. C. disposed of gold they procured from Spain to that country. Pliny tells of unavailing protests made in the first year of the Christian era of exportations of the precious metal from the Roman empire, nearly $15,000,000 of it being sent annually to India. Queen Elizabeth, in 1600, tried in vain to counteract the flow of gold from her country to India.

Dust is everywhere, but the worst kind of dust is that which is confined within the four walls of a room. The dust is always germ-laden, because it is infested with effete matter thrown off by human bodies.

Home Celebration of Wonder Interest

The arrival of a baby in the household completely changes the entire aspect of the home. But in the meantime, during the anxious period of expectancy, there is a splendid remedy known as "Mother's Friend" that does wonders. It is for external use, relieves the pains of muscle expansion, soothes and quiets the nerves, extends its influence to the internal organs and removes to a great extent the tendency to worry and apprehension. It is a natural treatment, safe for the mother, has no drug effect whatever and for this reason must exert a most beneficial influence upon those functions directly connected with motherhood. It is a very interesting book the subject is freely discussed and a copy will be mailed free to all expectant mothers by Bradfield Regulator Co., 766 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today if you are a mother or expect to be one. Use as directed and you will then know why mothers for nearly half a century have used and recommended this splendid aid to motherhood. Their letters are messages of cheer, that breathe comfort in every word.

It is worth while to know that "Mother's Friend" has been in continuous use more than half a century. Letters are frequently received to say that a young mother learned of this splendid remedy from her mother and from her grandmother both of whom used it with happiest results. Because of this fact you may rely implicitly upon its safety, its effectiveness and its directness of purpose.
